Do the Three Stooges Haunt Bensonhurst?

I get some interesting paranormal hotline calls and on 5/2/2023, I received two interesting calls. The first call was from Dru Lopez. His ring camera caught an apparition walking in front of his house. I told Dru to send me the footage on my email account. Here is the video he sent me: www.youtube.com/watch?v=v3Gm9ezw5N0 You can definitely see a shadow figure walking past the ring camera. The next call is from Marco Moretti from Queens. Marco tells me that he was visiting friends in Bensonhurst. Marco was walking down 86th Street and saw two guys that resembled Moe and Curly Howard of the Three Stooges. Marco thought they were just actors imitating the Three Stooges. Marco tells me that the Howard Brothers are from Bensonhurst and many other famous people are from this section of New York City. As Marco walked past these two guys that looked like Moe and Curly, Marco chuckled to himself and decided to say something to them. Marco was going to ask..."where's Larry?" When Marco turned around, they were nowhere to be seen. Marco says sure, there were people on the sidewalk, but he would have been able to have seen them on this street. There was no way, that they could have disappeared in a couple of seconds. Marco kept saying to himself.."no way!" Marco thought about it for a few days and now believes he saw the ghosts of Moe and Curly. Marco even remembers as he walked past these two figures that his shoulder should have touched Moe's arm and now that Marco is thinking about this more, he feels his arm went right through Moe's arm. Marco asked me if I ever heard that Moe and Curly's ghosts haunt Bensonhurst? My answer is "no", I have never heard about apparition sightings of Moe and Curly, but I can tell you is that Bensonhurst is very haunted. Legend has it that Bensonhurst is haunted by a few deceased mafia figures. Below is a list of haunted places in Bensonhurst:

McCaren Park: Poolside Girl Ghost and the Ghost of Sally Dogs.

McCaren Park is just a few miles from Bensonhurst, New York. On a park bench, locals have said that they have seen the ghost of Genovese Capo Salvatore "Sally Dogs" Lombardi sitting at a bench. Sometimes when they see him, he appears to be reading a newspaper and then he fades out. McCaren Park also has a large pool that opened in 1936. For a while they closed the pool because of the drowning of a little girl. To this day people still see the McCaren Park girl ghost who haunts the poolside. On hot Summer days, people at the pool will feel cold spots by the pool. They believe the cold spots are from the little girl ghost.

Bayside Cemetery: Shadow People of Bayside Cemetery

Bayside Cemetery is a historic Jewish cemetery. People who visit this cemetery feel like they are being watched. Some people say they smell rotten meat. Apparitions and shadow people have been seen roaming around the cemetery. One local mentioned that they were surrounded by four shadow people and when she started praying, the shadow people departed.

Cunard Hall - Wagner College: The Jumper and The Snake Persico.

Cunard Hall was built by Edward Cunard, son and heir of shipping magnate Samuel Cunard. The hall is now part of Wagner College. In 1890, a man leaped to his death from a second-story window, and witnesses have seen his face peering from the windows. Locals have made claim that they have seen the Columbo Family gangster Carmine "The Snake" Persico walking the grounds outside of the hall. Mickey Rochelli, a long-time resident of Bensonhurst says that two ghosts haunt the hall. They are The Jumper and The Snake Persico. Mickey claims to have seen both ghosts.

Other Places that are Haunted in Bensonhurst

Other places in Bensonhurst that are known to be haunted are the Jewish Baron Hirsch Cemetery. People feel cold spots and an apparition of a woman in a green dress has been seen. At Litchfield Villa, glowing gargoyle demons have been seen. At Sailor's Snug Harbor aka Snug Harbor Cultural Center and Botanical Garden, people have seen the ghosts of 19th century sailors. They have also seen a Lady in White moving about the garden. At Oriental Manor Catering Hall - American Place, staff say that this place is haunted by three ghosts. They hear disembodied footsteps, doors will open and close and one staff member mentioned that she felt an invisible hand stroking her long hair. The ghost stroked her hair on three different occasions. At Fort Wadsworth, people have seen ghostly soldiers and a tourist claims that she jumped into the consciousness of a deceased curly haired nurse that witnessed soldiers dying all around her. Garibaldi-Meucci Museum is haunted by a woman ghost named Ester. Ester was buried in the front yard of this museum and you can hear her making groaning sounds and coughing loudly.

Snarly Leprechaun

The Bank is a bar and restaurant and I was told I should investigate The Bank. I received two DM (Direct Messages) from Facebook, from two different people. The first direct message that I got was from a lady named Darlene. Darlene says that when she went to The Bank to eat, she encountered a ghost that looked like a snarly leprechaun. The "snarly leprechaun" ran past her and vanished into a wall. She said the "snarly leprechaun" had a large nose and a wrinkled face. The clothes that the "snarly leprechaun" wore were like rags, torn short and torn pants.

History of The Bank

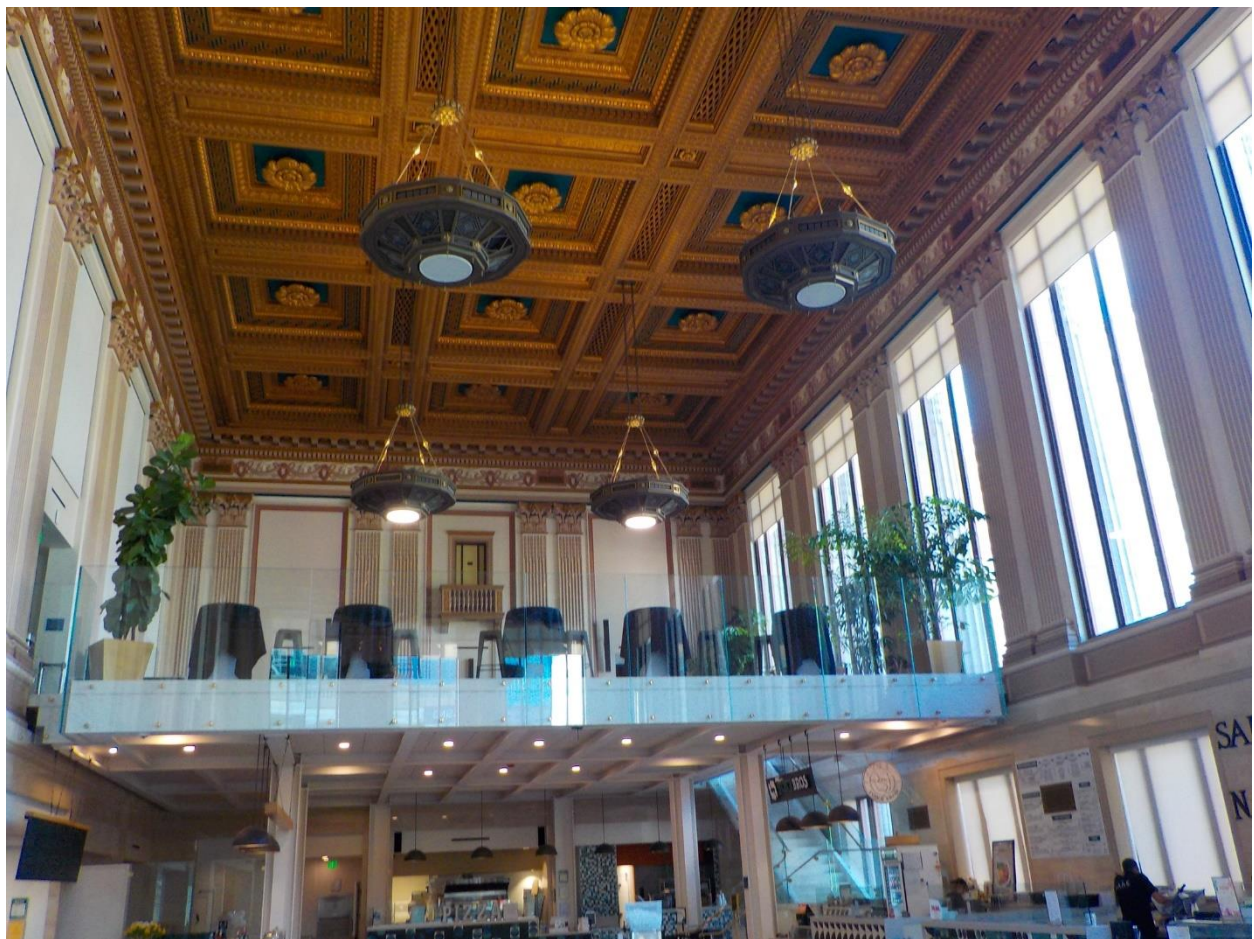

The second DM I received was from a woman named Barbara Lancon from Modesto. Barbara says that when she visited The Bank, she was poked in the ribs and her hair was stroked. The Bank is an old building. In fact, it was the D.O. Mills Bank Building. The Bank is connected to the Gold Rush of 1849. D.O. Mills is aka Darius O. Mills. At the age of 22, he set sail from his native North Salem, Westchester County, New York for California. Yep, D.O. Mills was part of the Gold Rush. Darius was business savvy and knew that there was more money to be made trading than in prospecting. His first venture was to buy a boatload of supplies to take up the San Joaquin River to sell to the gold miners. However, with the Gold Rush gaining momentum, it took only a few months until he realized there was a dire need for a bank to service the gold miners who came to town with pouches of gold dust and nuggets. With his New York background in banking, Darius O. Mills was ready to build his bank! The Bank became known as National Gold Bank of D. O. Mills and Company. In 1912, the building at 7th and "I" Streets was erected.

The Washington Fisherman

I brought Deanna Jaxine Stinson aka Wish Fire - Psychic Medium to The Bank to see what she could pick up on. As soon as Wish Fire walked into The Bank, she picked up on the "snarly leprechaun", she felt he was a little dwarf and he was a bit mischievous. Talked with the bartender and he said he has never picked up on anything paranormal, but knows that some of the evening employees have mentioned some paranormal activity that they witnessed and suggested I talk with them. The bartender says.. "this place is old, so it's possible". Wish Fire sat on one table and exclaimed..."I'm being touched, something is touching my shoulders!" At that time, I got an EVP. The EVP sounds like a man saying either "wake snakes" or "wait here". Wish Fire also encountered a ghost that I will call "The Washington Fisherman". Wish Fire described the entity as wearing something like a fisherman's outfit and had the face of George Washington. The entity also had curly hair. This entity was wandering around the hallway. Wish Fire and I explored the 2nd floor and there was no one up there, so we basically had the 2nd floor to ourselves.

Money Demon

On the first floor Wish Fire picked up on an entity that was all red, as it looked like he was made of lava. Wish Fire felt the essence of this entity and said it appeared the entity was interested in money, or gold. The entity was hanging out on the first floor next to a rabbit figurine by the bar. Wish Fire said that the entities at this establishment are harmless, and The Bank is their home. Wish Fire also said even though she called one entity the Money Demon, she felt that the entity did not have bad intentions and unfortunately looked scary.

Rumor has it that the Mayfair Witches have caused some weather disturbances and the weather disturbances need to stop. Drawing by William Carlisle. Concept by Paul Dale Roberts.

HPI Haunted Footnotes

Paul Dale Roberts, HPI's Esoteric Detective
Sacramento Paranormal Investigations
Halo Paranormal Investigations

I spent 12 years in the military and one of the things I learned is that every military installation is haunted. The reason why is because of suicides, murders and soldiers overdosing on drugs. It's a sad fact, but it's reality. I was in the US Army, and every military installation had their own paranormal story. Living in Sacramento, I had a lot of Air Force installations near me and on my own I found my way to these installations and started asking questions about the paranormal activity happening at these installations. I asked questions with the locals at Area 51 and got some unique answers. When I was in Military Intelligence at Yongsan Barracks in Seoul, Korea, I made a lot of hot roll runs to Osan AFB in Korea. Hot roll runs is driving from Yongsan Barracks to Osan AFB to pick up reconnaissance aerial footage of North Korea and Red China. At Osan AFB there is a story of a "girl in white" that haunts the base. It is believed that she was a prostitute that committed suicide while at the base, when she learned her Airman was cheating on her. Below are stories of some of the Air Force Bases I investigated, along with a story that comes from Armenia.

HAUNTED MCCLELLAN AFB

For the vast majority of its operational lifetime, McClellan was a logistics and maintenance facility for a wide variety of military aircraft, equipment and supplies. Initially known as the Pacific Air Depot and Sacramento Air Depot. In 1939 the base was renamed for Major Hezekiah McClellan, a pioneer in arctic aeronautical tests. Born in 1894, he died on 25 May 1936 when his Consolidated P-30 which he was flight testing, crashed near Centerville, Ohio. McClellan closed shop in 2001. McClellan AFB is very haunted. In 1988, during my single years I went partying at a nightclub called Charlie Browns. I met an Air Force lady Airman. We danced the night away and then she invited me to sleepover at her barracks. She snuck me onto the base, and I spent the whole night with her, in her dorm room. The dorm room was on the 2nd floor and my lady friend said that sometimes there is knocking on the wall that faces the outside yard. There are no steps on the outside wall and in the middle of the night, she would sometimes hear knocking on her dorm wall. There is no way that someone can knock on this wall, since it is on the second floor and there are no outside steps to this wall. Sure enough, around 3am to 4am, there was tapping on the wall and then solid knocks on the wall. I looked out the window, and there was no one outside that could be knocking on the wall. Another factor is that my lady friend and I, were the only ones in the dorm room, her two roommates were out of town. When I left in the morning, I had breakfast with my lady friend and she told me that in 1989, an Airman First Class that stayed in her room, committed suicide by slicing his wrists. The Airman First Class learned that his wife was cheating on him with his best friend. My lady friend believes that this Airman First Class is the one knocking on the wall.

HAUNTED TAVUSH PROVINCE, ARMENIA

Karen Jean Caruso Roberts Walker is a world traveler. She has been on cruises in the Mediterranean and Caribbean. She has traveled to Egypt and South Korea. There is one vacation, that impacted her life, and she will remember for the rest of her life. Her trip to Armenia. The visit to Armenia was for relaxing and learning about the history of Armenia. Karen had friends that were Armenian and wanted to know more about their native country. Karen met up with her Armenian girlfriend and they visited the Haghartsin Monastery, Dilijan in the Tavush Province in Armenia. Karen believes she has some psychic abilities, but doesn't know to what extent. When Karen and her friend got to the monastery, Karen detected strange shadow beings coming out of some bushes. Karen learned from the tour guide that this monastery was built in the 13th-century. They built the monastery close to the town of Dilijan in the Tavush Province of Armenia. Construction on the monastery was in the 10th century and completed in the 13th century under the rule of Khachatur of Taron - under the patronage of the Bagratuni Dynasty. As Karen proceeded into the monastery, she saw 2 female ghosts. Both female ghosts wore a pure black robe. Both female ghosts had what looked like a hoodie over their heads. They had 2 crosses dangling from their necks. Both women had a rosary around their wrists and both women were carrying bibles. The two women ghosts walked past Karen and her friend. Karen and her friend both got chilled by a passing wind. Karen believes the 2 female ghosts caused the cold spots. Karen's friend is not psychic and did not see the spectres. Karen also saw on the grounds a male ghost wearing what looked like MC Hammer pants, fur jacket and a wrap-around cloth hat. Karen says the monastery is very haunted and that the ghosts are not threatening. Karen will always remember this visit to the monastery, because never in her life had she seen so many ghosts in one place.

HAUNTED TRAVIS AFB

With Travis AFB, I investigated this base with a paranormal investigator Airmen that brought me onto the base. We investigated different areas of the base and acquired 3 EVPs. The first EVP was a man's voice saying "Tally Ho!". 2nd EVP of a man's voice saying "eyes skyward!". 3rd EVP of a man's voice saying "fly, fight and win!" We captured a lot of orb photos, but orbs can be almost anything, so I dismiss the orb photos as evidence. Travis AFB is named in honor of Brigadier General Robert F. Travis, who was killed in a B-29 crash at the installation on 5 August 1950.

HAUNTED AVIANO AIR BASE

Aviano Air Base was established by the Italian government in 1911 as the first airport in Italy. It was later used as training base for Italian pilots and construction facility for aircraft parts. During World War I, Italy used the airfield in missions against the Austro-Hungarian and German armies. The USAF first arrived in Aviano in the winter of 1954 and there was snow on the ground. When I took some R&R (Rest and Relaxation) time off, I visited Italy with my Sergeant Major. When I got to Bologna, Italy, I was basically on my own. I met two Airmen at a nightclub called the Dome. I made friends with these two Airmen quickly and was offered to crash out at their barracks, to save money and not spending it on a hotel. These two Airmen told me that some of the planes on the base are haunted by dead pilots. Sometimes pilots or Airmen see pilots sitting in the cockpits of the planes, when there shouldn't be any pilots in the planes. The pilots are seen for a while in the cockpits and then they simply vanish.

HAUNTED MATHER AFB

Mather Air Force Base (Mather AFB) was a United States Air Force Base, which was closed in 1993 pursuant to a post-Cold War BRAC decision. It was located 12 miles (19 km) east of Sacramento, on the south side of U.S. Route 50 in Sacramento County, California. Mather Field was one of 32 Air Service training camps established after the United States entry into World War I in April 1917. The Mather AFB land has various post-military uses including Sacramento Mather Airport, established in 1995. Some of the land was included in the City of Rancho Cordova, when it was incorporated in 2003. Mather Air Force Base was named after Second Lieutenant Carl Spencer Mather, a 25-year-old army pilot killed in a mid-air collision while training at Ellington Field, Texas on 30 January 1918. Mather learned to fly in 1914 at the Curtiss Flying School in Hammondsport, New York, and became an instructor there at the age of 20. He enlisted as an aviation cadet in August 1917 and as a licensed pilot was commissioned with part of his class as a second lieutenant on 20 January 1918. When I was stationed at Fort Huachuca, Arizona in 1979, my Army buddy and I, decided to hitchhike during the Christmas season from Fort Huachuca to Lake Tahoe to pick up my car and have Christmas dinner with my family in Sacramento. A Semi-Trailer Truck picked us up and dropped us off in Los Angeles. We spent the night in LA, and the next day an Airman from Mather AFB picked us up. We had dinner at my parent's house in Sacramento, made a stop at Mather AFB and then went to Lake Tahoe, where I was able to pick up my car. The Airman that picked us up said that Mather AFB is very haunted. The Airman said that one time in the chow hall, there was a technical sergeant sitting by himself, with no food on the table. The Airman thought it was odd, that this sergeant was sitting by himself and went over to him. The Technical Sergeant looked up at him and smiled, then vanished. Other Airmen have seen the technical sergeant walking around the base and has even seen him walk through a fence. The story goes that this Technical Sergeant died during a training incident and haunts Mather AFB.

Haunted Statue of Liberty

I received an interesting call from the paranormal hotline. The call was from Antonio (Tony) Romano from Newark, New Jersey and his friend Alessandro (Alex) De Luca from Bayonne, New Jersey. Tony and Alex said that they had some terrifying paranormal experiences, and they need help. Tony and Alex are amateur paranormal investigators, and they did some paranormal investigating at the Statue of Liberty and the Vessel at Hudson Yards. I asked Tony and Alex why they decided to investigate these landmarks. Tony explained to me that there were suicides at both landmarks.

While talking with Tony and Alex, I started researching suicides at these landmarks. It appears there were 3 suicides at the Statue of Liberty. One in 1929, another one in 1932, and the latest one in 1997. Three suicides total. The Black Tom Explosion orchestrated by World War I German agents killed 3 men and a baby and caused damage to the Statue of Liberty. As for the Vessel at the Hudson Yards, there were 4 suicides since 2019. The last suicide was a 14-year-old child and because of that, they closed the Vessel to the public.

What is amazing about the Statue of Liberty, is that this copper statue while being built in France, had no casualties of French laborers and no casualties of American laborers as they assembled the statue at Liberty Island. The statue, a gift from France was dedicated to the United States on October 28, 1886, and now the Goddess of Liberty with her beauty, represents universal liberty and freedom for American people and all free people of the world. After the 9/11 attack the Statue of Liberty and Liberty Island were closed to the public for 100 days. The statue has been through some harrowing moments in US history, but as for deaths at the statue, there isn't too many and I wondered why Alex and Tony would need help with their paranormal experiences at these two landmarks.

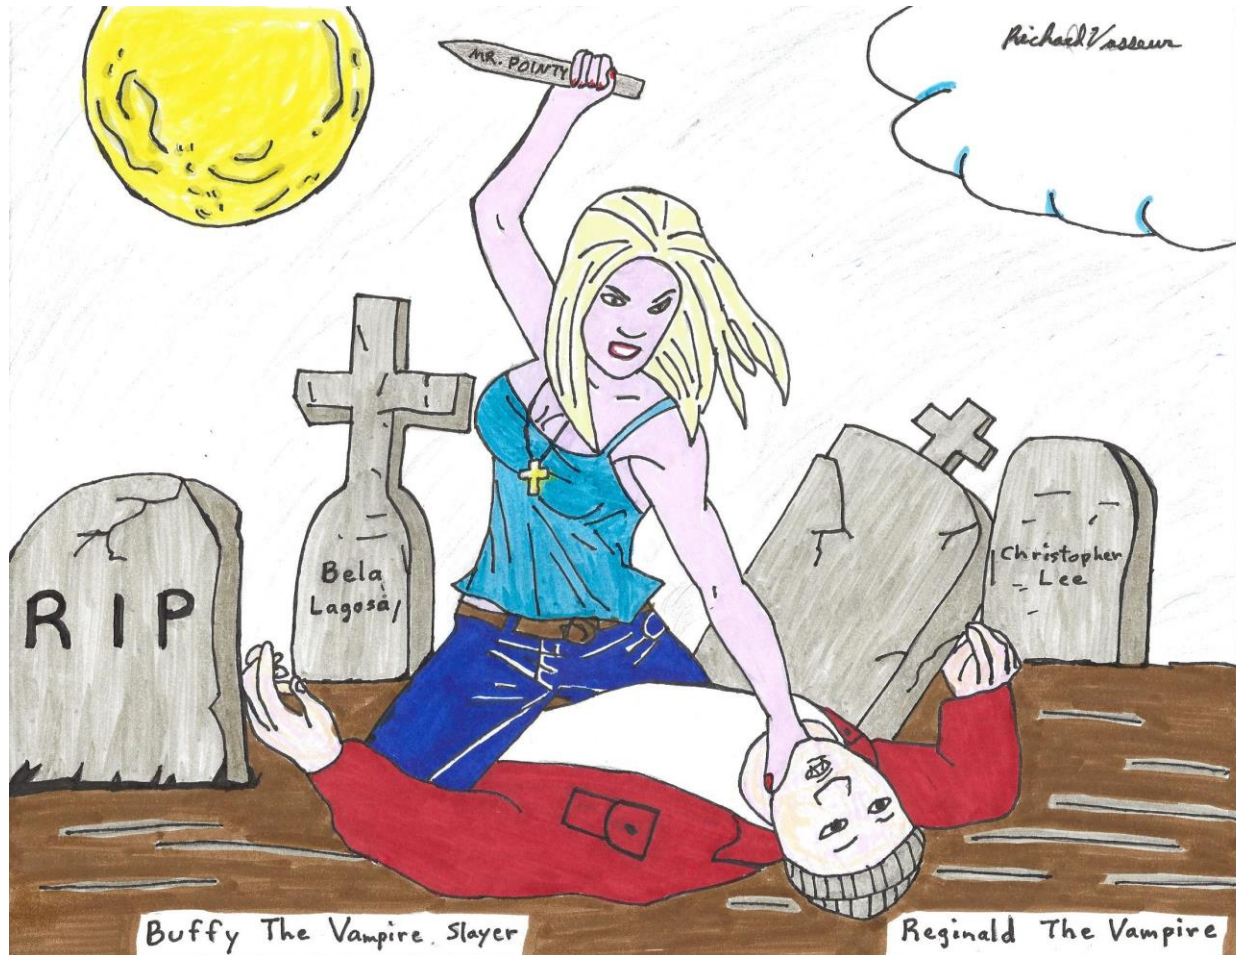

As I continued my conversation with Tony and Alex, I asked them what is going on, why would you need my help? Tony and Alex explained to me that they investigated the Vessel in 2017 and investigated the Statue of Liberty in 2016. Only recently they have been haunted by the same ghost. The ghost of a man wearing a "walker" hat and an old-time suit. The haunting started in February 2023, and they believe that it has to do with their investigation at the Statue of Liberty or the Vessel. I asked Tony and Alex, why do you think it's because of your investigation at these two landmarks? Tony explained to me that the man in the "walker" hat says to them both... "kill yourself". Tony also says that this is the same voice that whispered in his ear, while he was on the Statue of Liberty and he said: "get me to the crown!" Tony and Alex have did their own research and they tell me that there was a man that committed suicide that thought the FBI was after him and he needed to get to the crown. Tony also explained to me that while at the Vessel, they heard the same man say "jump". Tony and Alex tell me that they are being terrorized by this entity, because now it appears in their bedroom and stares at them. The entity will also laugh hysterically and his eyes are solid black. Tony and Alex believe the entity followed them from the Statue of Liberty or the Vessel.

I asked Tony and Alex did they bring anything back with them from these two landmarks. Lo and behold, Tony tells me that they found 2 sterling silver cufflinks half buried in the ground at Liberty Island. I truly believe that the energy from this entity is attached to those cufflinks. The cufflinks must be returned to Liberty Island, where they found them. Tony has one cufflink and Alex has the other cufflink. I also told them when they return the cufflinks, to spread holy water over the cufflinks in the sign of the cross and pray for protection. This is a continuing case and I will be assisting Tony and Alex, to make sure that the entity will not harass them anymore. Tony and Alex asked if I have ever been to the Statue of Liberty and my answer is "no". When Deanna and I, were headed for Toronto, Canada, we did a layover in New York and when the plane took off, we could see the Statue of Liberty. A very impressive sight. I would love to investigate the monumental statue one day and if I do, I will not be bringing back anything from Liberty Island.

Sacramento Paranormal Investigations

Halo Paranormal Investigations

Today 4/11/2023, received an early morning call from Diamond Springs. The family that called me needs desperate help. They are being attacked by a ghostly Puma. They want this case to be confidential. I will be referring to the clients as Mr. and Mrs. J. Mrs. J explains to me that her 16-year-old son is very rebellious. I will call their son "Mike" in this article. Mike is not his real name. I am told, Mike is into dark things, he dresses "goth". He has been caught playing with a butterfly knife, been in trouble at school, yells at his parents and the list goes on and on. Mrs. J has also caught him reading a "dark spell" book. Mrs. J has destroyed this spell book, by placing it into the rock fire pit in the backyard. The family has been going to family counseling sessions and the sessions seem to be helping, as Mike is not as rebellious as he used to be and now is listening to his parents more. Another thing that has been happening, that has caused Mike to change his ways, is that in one of his spells he summoned a demon. The demon that came into his family's life is a phantom mountain lion that has attacked Mike and his parents. The Mountain Lion Demon actually looks like a puma and has the ability to walk through walls. The feline demon has scratched Mike and both of his parents. The scratches are deep and are usually found on their legs and sometimes on their chest area. Mr. & Mrs. J asked if Wish Fire aka Deanna Jaxine Stinson, Psychic Medium and I, could come up to Diamond Springs and perform a full submersion baptism on Mike and his parents. They also want a Roman Catholic house blessing. They requested that they only want Wish Fire, because she is a psychic medium and me, because I perform the baptisms and Catholic house blessing. They requested only the two of us and did not want my whole team at this investigation. They also requested that this investigation remain confidential. I agreed.

The drive from Elk Grove, CA to Diamond Springs, CA is a 49-minute drive. Diamond Springs is an old town and was settled in 1848. The name Diamond Springs originates from the crystal-clear springs around the town. During the gold rush, Diamond Springs was the place to be. It's one of the richest locations for gold in gold country. In fact, the area produced a 25-pound nugget, one of the largest ever found in El Dorado County. Its most lively period was in 1851, in regard to the town producing lumber, lime production, and agriculture. Diamond Springs has a lot to offer from the 1800s to the present time. A post office was established at Diamond Spring in 1853 and in 1950 the locals changed the name of the town from Diamond Spring to Diamond Springs.

Another interesting aspect of Diamond Springs is that it's part of Gold Country and Gold Country is a hotspot for UFO activity. John Wilkinson of Lodi, CA was visiting a relative in Diamond Springs and during a 4th of July barbeque, they witnessed a black cube flying in the sky. John says it was a solid black cube moving slowly across the sky and then it blinked out, almost like it went through a portal in the sky. A lot of strange sightings take place in and around Diamond Springs.

Before Wish Fire and I, took off for Diamond Springs, we were walking our dogs Champagne and Story at Peace Presbyterian Church and Wish Fire being a psychic observed an elderly man ghost by the church and a young guy walking in the field near the church. I had Wish Fire describe the young guy ghost and to my amazement, the guy she was describing was a murder victim in Elk Grove. In 1998, a van with 3 boys pulled over to the side of the road and accosted a young boy and beat him to death at 2pm on a Sunday. Where Wish Fire saw the young boy ghost is where the young boy died by being physically assaulted by 3 boys.

When we arrived at the home in Diamond Springs, Mrs. J came out crying. She desperately needed our help. Mrs. J showed me a series of digital photos of scratches that Mike received and scratches that Mr. and Mrs. J received. Some of the scratches were deep and Mike had a scratch on his leg that required stitches. I did some EVP work, but did not get any EVPs. I was expecting to get an EVP of a cat growling, but I didn't. The most important thing that needed to get done is for me to baptize the three of them. I gave Mike, Mr. & Mrs. J a full submersion baptism in their bathtub. Wish Fire said she saw a glimpse of the ghostly mountain lion in the backyard, but then it noticed Wish Fire looking at him and ran off into the woods. Wish Fire said the demon was being elusive. When I conducted the Roman Catholic house blessing, I made sure to also bless their property. Mr. & Mrs. J and Mike thanked us and said that when I was performing the house blessing, Mrs. J briefly saw a halo over Mike's head. Mrs. J has confidence that my house blessing and baptisms will work. Wish Fire left them a care package of smudging wands, blessed candles, palo santo wood, etc.

MY THOUGHTS:

With the photos I saw, I do not believe that this family self-produced these scratches. Their story was consistent and detailed. Wish Fire says she saw the demon outside. Even though I did not get any EVPs, I believe this family was tormented by a demon that shape-shifted into what looks like a puma. I will keep in touch with them, to make sure that our blessings and baptisms were successful. Case pending closure.

Haunted Canary Islands

Paul Dale Roberts, HPI's Esoteric Detective
Sacramento Paranormal Investigations
Halo Paranormal Investigations

When I went on my vacation to Madrid, Spain to Morocco, I wanted to visit the Canary Islands. Unfortunately, I was on a budget and couldn't get over to the Canary Islands. To see a detailed story about my vacation to Spain & Morocco, stop by here: www.hackwriters.com/madrid05.htm

My uncle former Merchant Marine Jose Causing told me that I would love the Canary Islands, because it's a hotspot for UFOs and ghosts galore. I made two friends in Morocco. Their names are Taleb Halimi and Mandil Shriki. To this day, we still communicate on Facebook. My uncle Jose said when he visited the Canary Islands that he did see shadow people in the caves of Tenerife. The caves are very haunted, because many Guanche people were slaughtered by the Spaniards. Taleb says that when he visited the caves, he was attacked by a shadow person. Taleb said in one part of this cave, he felt like he was being strangled and felt a sharp pain on the side of his stomach. Taleb feels he was being attacked by a Guanche and that the sharp pain on the side of his stomach felt like a dagger. When he left that area of the cave, he felt normal again.

Mandil tells me that when he visited the town of Guimar, he was awe struck by Guimar's pyramids. Mandil tells me that these pyramids are also associated with UFO/UAP activity. Mandil has talked with locals who have seen three disc shaped objects hovering over the pyramids and then with a blink of an eye, they vanish. Besides UFO/UAP activity, you have ghosts. There is a ravine near the town of Barranco de Badajoz. Mandil says that legend has it, that a young girl was told by her parents to gather fruit from the trees of the ravine. This incident happened around 1895. The girl went to do her errand for her parents and then vanished. Twenty years later, the same young girl that vanished reappeared in town. She looked the same as when she disappeared. When questioning this girl, the girl did not realize that she was gone for 20 years, she thought she was gone only for a few hours. The locals believe she was abducted by a UFO or that the area of Barranco is a portal to another dimension. Some Ufologists believe she was taken by a UFO and traveled at light speed into outer space, where time has slowed down. A few hours in space traveling at light speed, would be many years here on Earth. That would explain why she looks the same way as when she vanished 20 years ago. Mandil believes that the pyramids are built on a ley line. Sightings of ghosts and UFOS have also been seen here at Barranco de

I explained to Mandil that skeptics believe that the pyramids have no mystical connection to UFOs, ghosts or anything else. They believe that farmers gathered some volcanic rocks when clearing their land and built the pyramids. Some skeptics also believe that the pyramids are not that old and date back to the 19th century. The reason why they came up with that theory is because they found pottery near the pyramids that date back to that time period. They found the pottery during the University of La Laguna excavations.

The late Philip Coppens, Belgium Author visited Tenerife in 2009 and did his own research and investigation, this is what he said:

"The fact is that on one plaza between two pyramids, archaeologists dug down into the structure, but stopped at a level they equated with the 18th century – and which was between 50 and 150 centimetres deep. From this, the mistaken conclusion was reached that they had dug down all the way to the bottom and had realized the oldest layer was two centuries old. Nothing can be further from the truth."

HISTORY OF THE GUANCHE PEOPLE

During 1000 BC, the Guanche people migrated to the Canary Islands. With their arrival, their hunting caused the extinction of a 3-foot-long giant lizard species and the Tenerife giant rats that grew to 3 feet and 9 inches long. My uncle Jose says that locals claim that they still see the giant rats around the caves of Tenerife. Taleb claims that he also saw a giant rat near the caves. Taleb says that when he saw the giant rat, it scared him to death. Taleb felt his life was in danger and that the rat would eat him. Taleb now thinks that the giant rat he saw was a ghost rat.

There were many deaths that occurred on the Canary Islands. There were squirmishes and battles. Two battles were:

The First Battle of Acentejo, Tenerife

1402 The Castilians Sought to Conquer the Canary Islands.

Special Note: The Castilians conquered Lanzarote & Fuerteventura rather quickly and finally conquered the rest of the islands by 1496.

Taleb and Mandil say that the Canary Islands are very haunted and if any paranormal investigator wants to encounter UFOs/UAP, shadow people, ghosts and ghost rats, you are welcome to investigate! It's all here at the Canary Islands! Special Note: Taleb and Mandil have vacationed at the Canary Islands twice and plan to go back one more time.

SACRAMENTO MOTHMAN

On, August 2009, a professional photographer named Lamont Greer was out taking pictures of the Sacramento's Tower Bridge when he sighted a creature sitting on top of the railing of the Sacramento Tower Bridge. Lamont described the creature as having large wings, no neck, humanoid body and the face of a moth. Lamont's sighting was featured on History Channel's Monsterquest. In an article entitled: "Mothman Sighted on Sacramento's Tower Bridge" written by Loretta Splitair, she talks about two more witnesses to the Sacramento Mothman, their names are Dustin Kemp - an Embassy Suites Hotel Manager. Dustin saw a shadowy winged humanoid like creature on the bridge. Another witness Carlos Fuentes who works at Joe's Crab Shack saw the Sacramento Mothman on the Sacramento Tower Bridge. Carlos even contacted the police and search and rescue, just in case what he saw was a human on the bridge attempting suicide. On Reddit, an anonymous person writes that he and his friends Patrick and Tim saw the Sacramento Mothman on the bridge. There is a woman that was investigating the Mothman sightings on the Sacramento Tower Bridge at 3am and she claimed that she saw and heard the Mothman on the bridge. Her story was posted on the Internet and recently has been taken down. With these many witnesses, they must be seeing something.

LAGUNA CREEK WETLANDS GIANT SALAMANDER

In the Unexplained Mysteries article "Laguna Creek Wetlands Salamander", there were reports from joggers and dog walkers along the Laguna Creek Wetlands trail, that they saw a giant salamander. Giant salamanders have been seen along the embankments of the Sacramento River and in the Trinity Alps. I received an anonymous email from a student at UC Davis who read my article and he told me that it was two UC Davis students who released a giant salamander in the Wetlands - mystery solved. For a salamander to live in our Wetlands is not highly impossible. Just recently on Apr 12, 2023, a fisherman found a 7-foot alligator in the American River at Sailor Bar near Fair Oaks in Sacramento, California according to wildlife officials.

SACRAMENTO DOGMAN & FRANKLIN BLVD DOGMAN

In 1953, according to the article "Sacramento County, CA Encounter by Anonymous", the writer's mother at the age of 12 years old encountered the Dogman. The Dogman was looking at her from her kitchen window. She was terrified. You can read more about this encounter as the "dogmanencounters" website. In 1962, on Francesca and Franklin Blvd, Darion Wilcox's mother Sarah encountered the Dogman. 1962 appears to be the last sighting of a Dogman in Sacramento.

WETLASH - WATER ELEMENTAL

See article in the Sacramento Press, entitled: "Bob Montana - Carmichael Resident Sighting of a Wetlash". The sighting took place on November 16, 2011, along Garcia Bend. Bob Montana, an avid fisherman encountered a water elemental in the Sacramento River. It was transparent and seemed to be made of water. It wore old style clothing and had the features of an elf or leprechaun. The water elemental caught a fish and then dived back into the water.

SACRAMENTO RIVER SERPENT

Two SMUD workers along the Sacramento River in Greenhaven see a large river serpent swimming down the Sacramento River. The two SMUD workers are reliable witnesses. Anything could be in the Sacramento River. The Sacramento River once had humpback whales swimming in its waters. Case in point Delta and Dawn. Delta is a humpback whale and mother to her calf Dawn. In May 2007, Delta and Dawn swam up the San Francisco Bay and deep into the Sacramento River. Then there was a famous humpback whale named Humphrey that did same thing as Delta and Dawn. In 1957, there were reported sightings of the Folsom Lake Monster (that looked like a serpent). So, when people say they see a river serpent in the Sacramento River, I have a tendency to believe them.

The Monster Book - Creatures, Beasts and Fiends of Nature (Book Review)

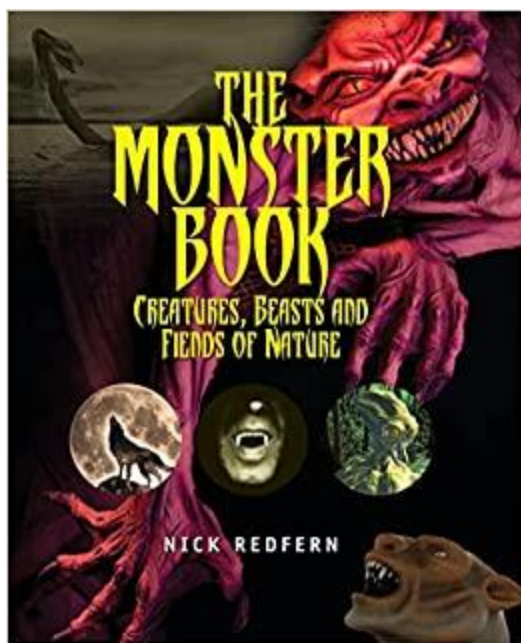

Author: Nick Redfern

Publisher: Visible Ink

Price: $25.47 at Amazon

Reviewed by: Paul Dale Roberts, Halo Paranormal Investigations

Comments: Wow! This book is a MONSTER book! The book is thick and oozing with monster lore, identifying monsters seen throughout the world. Let me go over some of them. There are witnesses throughout the British Isles that see the ABCs! What are ABCs? ABC are Alien Big Cat. There are witnesses that see these large black cats roaming the hillsides of England. People have taken pictures of them. The people of the British Isles seem to accept the sightings of ABCs, but it appears the government seems to avoid the subject. People have seen these big cats vanish right before their very eyes. Sometimes the big cats are seen near and around UFO activity. Just what are they? It's anyone's guess. On some of these cryptids, you may want to keep a light on. Especially, when you read about the Linton Worm. The Linton Worm is a man-eating worm like beast, known to eat cows, sheep, pigs and yes...people! Nick did an excellent job with this book. The Monster Book covers hundreds of various cryptids. I will name just a few. In this book you will find information on the Beast of Bray Road; Fenrir the Werewolf; the Texas Chupacabra; Bear-Monster; Giant Salamander.

I have to comment on the giant salamander. Here in Elk Grove, California, we had giant salamander sightings at the Laguna Creek Wetlands. Come to find out two UC Davis students released a giant salamander in our Wetlands. People who saw the giant salamander, thought they were seeing things, when actually they saw exactly what they thought they saw and there was a good explanation on why there was a giant salamander in our Wetlands.

Other monsters mentioned in this book are the Mongolian Death Worm. The Mongolian Death Worm is one scary monster and most likely was the inspiration for Sandworms in the Dune novels by Frank Herbert and the sandworm in the movie Beetlejuice. Monsters seem to leave a deep impression in the minds of man. More monsters mentioned in this book are....yes...release the Kraken! Yep, the story of the Kraken is in this monstrous book! Then you have the internet sensation Slenderman that basically has become a Tulpa and now people around the world encounter this cryptid! The blood thirsty Wendigo is in this book. Skunk apes and the creepy grinning man. Remember how a grinning man named Indrid Cold tormented the author of the Mothman Prophecies? If I saw a creepy man grinning at me constantly, I would get pretty freaked out. Nick really did his homework on this book. So much information, so many monsters. I really enjoyed reading about the Tulpa. Dame Alexandra David-Neel created her own Tulpa and there were some very scary results.

I have to mention that author Walter B. Gibson created his own Tulpa. A character he created called "The Shadow" yeah, that Shadow! Walter thought about his character so much, that his family and friends who came to visit him, described seeing a character lurking around Walter's house that had a red scarf over his mouth, a long protruding nose and wearing a large-brimmed hat. Yes, his family and friends were seeing The Shadow! Walter created his own Tulpa!

Magnificent, brilliant and sometimes downright scary! The Monster Book has it all!!

Haunted Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel

Paul Dale Roberts, HPI's Esoteric Detective
 Sacramento Paranormal Investigations
 Halo Paranormal Investigations

When I was a professional dancer in Sacramento and for a short time held the Guinness Book of World Records for disco dancing 205 hours, I was offered after my marathon dancing to go to Hollywood and try out for the movies Roller Boogie and Skatetown U.S.A. Mind you, at the time in 1979, I was a professional dancer and not a paranormal investigator, but I was still very interested in the paranormal. So, when I headed out to Los Angeles to become a big disco dancing star, I decided to stay at the Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel. The reason being is that it had a reputation of being haunted. I stayed at this hotel for 3 nights and the rest of my nights I stayed at my uncle's house in San Bernardino, CA. During my stay at the Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel, I heard that there were many celebrity ghosts at this hotel. So, I hoped I would experience something paranormal. On my second night at the hotel, I woke up at 2 a.m. and heard what sounded like people applauding. I tip toed down the hallway to see where the applauding was coming from and couldn't find the source. I don't know if I dreamed about people applauding, or if I actually heard applauding. Who would be applauding at 2 a.m.? I later learn that the first Academy Awards ceremony was held at this hotel and I wondered if I heard the residual applauding of that ceremony from 1929?

The Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel opened in 1927. Marilyn Monroe did her first photoshoot at the hotel's pool. Montgomery Clift stayed in Room 928 for three months, while filming From Here to Eternity. Montgomery is one of the active ghosts. Montgomery likes to tap people on the shoulder. Sometimes you can hear Montgomery's ghost playing the bugle. Ghost hunters that have stayed in Room 928 say that their batteries drain immediately. The hotel had its share of celebrity guests, some of those notable hotel guests are Charlie Chaplin, H. G. Wells, Clark Gable, Max Baer Sr., Carole Lombard, Mary Martin, F. Scott Fitzgerald, Ernest Hemingway, Mike Posner, Prince, Brad Pitt and Angelina Jolie.

On my third night at the hotel, I was exhausted and fatigued from doing try outs for American Bandstand and the Gong Show. I was rejected from American Bandstand, because they said I was too old and I was rejected from the Gong Show, because they wanted my dance routine to be funny. In the middle of the night, I heard knocking at my door. I went to open the door and there was no one there. Then I heard a knocking once again and there was no one there. Come to find out, many guests have experienced these mysterious knockings at their door.

Some of the stories of ghostly activities at this hotel are the following:

1. It appears that all of the receptionists that worked at this hotel have received mysterious phone calls from rooms that have no occupants. Sometimes there sounds like someone is giggling on the phone.
2. In one of the rooms, guests and employees of the hotel have heard the sounds of a typewriter. The sounds mimic a person typing on an old type of typewriter.

3. Here is one that I missed, and I learned about it later. There was a tall mirror in Marilyn Monroe's suite and people that have looked in the mirror have seen the image of Marilyn Monroe behind them. Sometimes they will see a moving shadow behind them, and they wonder if that could be Marilyn. Marilyn actually lived for 2 years at this hotel. The mirror has now been moved into the lobby of the hotel.

4. Legend has it that a little girl drowned in the pool named Carolyn. Some guests claim that they see Carolyn either by the pool or running around various hallways.

5. Some guests have seen a man dressed all in white walking around the hallways. No one has been able to identify this mysterious ghost.

The Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel is one of the most haunted hotels in Los Angeles. When you walk into the lobby, it almost feels like you are stepping back into time. As I approached the receptionist, I felt a tingling sensation on my arms and back of my neck. I must say that this hotel is probably one of the most paranormal active hotels in the United States.

What is the Jersey Devil?

Paul Dale Roberts, HPI's Esoteric Detective
Sacramento Paranormal Investigations
Halo Paranormal Investigations

I once had an all-night layover in New Jersey. During my all-night layover, I decided to head to the hotel bar and meet some of the passengers from my flight. On that night, I met Randy Morrison from Philadelphia, who once lived in Trenton, New Jersey. Randy to this day, is one of my Facebook friends and our final destination was Amsterdam. During our conversation, I asked Randy about the Jersey Devil aka the Leeds Devil of Pine Barrens, New Jersey. Randy had an interesting story. Randy and his two older brothers went hiking in the Pine Barrens and at some point, during their hike, they heard a loud scream. Randy said that the scream was ear piercing. It was a scream that Randy was unfamiliar with. Randy says that one of his brothers was about 50 yards in front of Randy and his other brother and claims he saw what looked like a goat's head peeking from behind a tree. Randy's brother freaked out and started running towards Randy and his other brother. Randy and his two brothers ran all the way back to their cars and Randy's brother described seeing an odd-looking goat's head peeking from behind the tree. Randy's brother is sure that he saw the Jersey Devil and mentioned that even though he saw the goat's head, it didn't look normal, it looked devilish. Other witnesses to the Jersey Devil say that the Jersey Devil is a flying bipedal creature, with a goat's head and hoofs. The cryptid also has large leathery wings.

Randy felt like he had an answer to what the Jersey Devil is. Randy actually believes that the Jersey Devil is the infamous original Chupacabra of Puerto Rico. Randy says this is not the Chupacabra of Texas, a coyote with mange, but the original Chupacabra that was seen in Puerto Rico that also had wings. Randy mentions the 1840 livestock killings which are very similar to how the Chupacabra kills, not to mention the 1925 chicken slaughters in which a New Jersey farmer shot at the Jersey Devil. Randy says that everything points towards the original Chupacabra.

I must agree with Randy, it would appear that the Jersey Devil and the original Chupacabra are quite similar, except that the Jersey Devil has a goat's head and the original Chupacabra almost looks like a grey alien with large oval shaped eyes, small holes for nostrils, lipless mouth, no ears. The original Chupacabra are described as either having wings like the Jersey Devil or having spine like appendages in which the Jersey Devil has no spine like appendages. The original Chupacabra is said to be 4 to 5 feet tall, while the Jersey Devil is said to be 3 to 4 feet tall and in some cases as tall as 6 feet. As you can see there are some similarities and some differences.

The Lenape indigenous people of the Pine Barrens, believe that the Jersey Devil is a spirit that they call M'Sing. Locals came up with the legend that Mother Leeds, a witch from the 1900s cursed her 13th child, because she didn't want any more children. This 13th child transformed into the Jersey Devil. The Jersey Devil's father is said to be a demon. Other locals say that the story of the Jersey Devil has been passed around orally for a long time and was meant to provide entertainment to the children. But, if you ask Randy's brother who witnessed the Jersey Devil, this cryptid is very real and not a fantasy story made up by the locals. I also wonder if so many people believe in the Jersey Devil, did this entity manifest from the minds of many believers and in doing so, became what is known as a Tulpa? A Tulpa is an entity that is born from the minds of people. Case example: Slenderman was created from the Internet, but so many people believe that Slenderman is real and now people are claiming that they have encountered Slenderman. Slenderman if real, is considered as a Tulpa. Another case example: Author Walter B. Gibson created the character The Shadow. Family and friends visiting Walter at his home were seeing a dark figure, wearing a brimmed hat, red scarf over the mouth and a long protruding nose. Family and friends were describing the character The Shadow. Walter was thinking so much of the character that he created, that from his mind came a Tulpa...The Shadow! The Jersey Devil possibly could be a Tulpa!

Haunted Angola Prison

Halo Paranormal Investigations

The information that I will provide you in this article comes from two sources. The first source is a unknown blogger that worked as a correctional officer for 18 years (State & Federal) and is very familiar with Angola Prison aka Louisiana State Penitentiary aka The Bloody Bayou Alcatraz. The second source is from a former inmate nicknamed "Maddog" that served time in Angola Prison. At one time Angola Prison was known as the bloodiest prison in America. Back in the 1830s, they had an old-slave-quarters on the property and the property was known as the Angola Plantation. Inmates from various jails in Louisiana were taken to the plantation to work the fields. It wasn't until 1901 that the State of Louisiana recognized the property as a prison. Cruel and vicious things would happen at this prison. Some model inmates became "turn-keys". Turn-keys were allowed to have weapons and did the job of a correctional officer. Some turn-keys were vicious with their fellow inmates. In one incident a turn-key saw that a smaller sized inmate was being picked on by a heavy-set inmate. Both inmates worked in the kitchen and the turn-key allowed the smaller sized inmate to boil some hot water and then pour it on the back of the larger sized inmate. The larger sized inmate screamed at the top of his lungs as his skin melted off his body. Two turn-keys had to drag him out of the kitchen and take him to medical staff. The inmate eventually died from his burns. According to Maddog, sometimes you can hear his screams.

Maddog says that in the dormitory where all the bunk beds are, a weak-minded prisoner became the victim of many of the inmates, who dressed him up as a girl, placing make-up on his face and having him walk up and down the dormitory, where inmates could make bids for him, to have forced sex. The victim after a year of abuse by other inmates couldn't take it anymore and sliced his own throat with a shiv. Maddog says that at times inmates have said that when they look into a reflective object, they will see the face of the victim behind them. Some inmates believe that if you see the face of the victim, you become cursed and that curse can lead to you either becoming very ill, severely injured or facing death. One correctional officer who wishes to remain unidentified says that he was a correctional officer at Angola from March 1993 to March 2000. He has heard chains rattling, ghostly screams from inmates that are deceased. He claims that the lethal injection room is haunted and sometimes at night they will see the ghostly figures of inmates working the fields. He also claims that he almost on a nightly basis has heard the screams of inmates who have died. According to the blogger, the Louisiana Prison Museum where Gruesome Gurtie aka the Electric Chair is on display, is definitely haunted. Gruesome Gurtie has a lot of bad energy around it and is very haunted. Gruesome Gurtie took the lives of 87 inmates and the final execution on this electric chair occurred on July 22, 1991. When Gruesome Gurtie was in use, it was housed in a building known as the "Red Hat" cell block. According to many former correctional officers, the infamous Red Hat building is also haunted. Screams are heard from this building.

Some of the most gruesome murders that happened at Angola are when a chain gang was working the fields, two inmates got into an argument. One of the inmates took his swinging ditch blade and sliced open the stomach of the inmate he was arguing with. Maddog says that when he was working the field he saw a bloody ditch blade lying on the ground and when he went down to pick it up, the blade vanished. Another gruesome murder was when staff found an inmate cut in half. The top half of the inmate was in the meat locker. His bottom half was found in a trash can. Maddog says that sometimes inmates will open the meat locker and see the top half of the inmate with blood splattered all over. Then the apparition will disappear. Inmates who have encountered this apparition, will run out of the kitchen screaming. Maddog says that Angola Prison, the Louisiana Prison Museum, the Angola Prison cemetery, the Red Hat Building is all haunted. Maddog says that Angola may be the most haunted prison in the world and if authorities ever close down this prison and allow ghost hunting groups inside, they will find so much paranormal activity it would be mind boggling.

Haunted Rocklin, CA

Paul Dale Roberts, HPI's Esoteric Detective
Sacramento Paranormal Investigations
Halo Paranormal Investigations

Rocklin, CA is a quaint little town with a lot of history. I also received reports that certain areas of Rocklin are haunted. Isaac Campbell of Redwood City says that when he was visiting Rocklin with his wife, that both of them saw a small Asian man carrying a sledgehammer along the railroad tracks. Isaac thought it was odd to be by the tracks with a sledgehammer and Isaac and his wife kept an eye on him, to make sure he was not up to no good. The Asian man raised his sledgehammer as if he was going to hit the tracks. Isaac yelled out..."hey!!!" The Asian man disappeared right before Isaac and his wife's eyes. Isaac realized that he saw a ghost.

Come to find out, Rocklin is connected to the transcontinental railroad. There were many Asian workers that worked on the tracks. In 1862 the Pacific Railroad Act handed over land from the Secret Ravine to the Central Pacific Railroad. The Asian workers completed the extension of the track from Newcastle to the Secret Ravine in 1864. In 1869, completion of the railroad tracks came to fruition. In 1869 Asian workers that once worked on the tracks moved into the Secret Ravine to raise vegetables that they would sell locally. The residents of Rocklin and Newcastle chased out the Asian community from the Secret Ravine using extreme violence. The citizens of Rocklin even accused a group of Chinese workers of murdering three people in Rocklin. The dark history of Rocklin hints at horrific beatings, torture and even murder of their Asian citizens. The negative events that happened in Rocklin, would definitely leave a residual type of haunting in Rocklin.

After receiving a few messages about Rocklin, I decided to go ahead and conduct an investigation. I brought along Wish Fire aka Deanna Jaxine Stinson - Psychic Medium and my two psychic dogs Story and Champagne. We investigated the following:

Barudoni Building - Old Saint Mary's Chapel - Historic City Hall
5200 Front Street, Rocklin, CA

Sunset Whitney Recreational Area
4201 Midas Avenue, Rocklin, CA

Another witness to paranormal activity in Rocklin is Leo Wright from Piedmont, CA. Leo came to Rocklin to meet a woman he got acquainted with on a dating app. Leo's date told Leo that she has heard drumming sounds and chanting in the Rocklin area and she believes that this drumming and chanting is coming from the spirits of the Nisenan Maidu that once lived along the rivers and streams. When the California Gold Rush started, the camps of the Nisenan Maidu were destroyed by the miners who dredged and dammed the rivers and streams, so they could get their gold. Some Nisenan Maidu were brutally killed by these miners. Leo's date also told Leo that she once saw 3 dandy looking fellows walking together from the historic city hall. The dandy looking fellows were laughing and then disappeared.

Leo says that when he stopped by Sunset Whitney Recreational Area, he felt a pain in his chest and then he heard a man's voice whisper in his ear..."does it hurt yet?" After he heard the whispering, Leo hightailed it out of there. Leo's date was startled and couldn't believe that Leo was attacked by some kind of ghost. When Wish Fire and I, investigated the recreational area, Wish Fire captured three EVPs instantly. The EVPs were unintelligible, but definitely a man's voice is heard in the background. Wish Fire also saw a ghost of a man that was 6 feet tall and wearing a long-brimmed hat. Our dogs Story and Champagne went crazy barking at one area of the abandoned building structure at this recreational park.

Liam Clark of Foster City, CA says that you can hear the Tommyknockers pounding on rocks at Quarry Park in Rocklin. Liam also says that he used to live in Rocklin and that an elderly man with a long beard is sometimes seen at the Barudoni Building. Liam says that he is psychic and when he encountered the elderly man, he asked the old man ghost...."what is your name?" The old man ghost responded and said his name is Bernard. Liam says that the ghost that haunts Old Saint Mary's Chapel is a Lady in Blue. When Liam encountered the Lady in Blue, he asked her why she was haunting the church and received no reply. Liam also asked the Lady in Blue...."what is your name?" The Lady in Blue did not respond, nor did she look at Liam. Liam also encountered a man that had fire bursting from his jacket and then vanished. Liam believes this was a residual haunting from the 1914 Porter's Saloon fire. Liam also believes the Lady in Blue is a residual haunting, not an intelligent haunting.

The Oddities of the Space / Time Continuum

Paul Dale Roberts, HPI's Esoteric Detective

Sacramento Paranormal Investigations

Halo Paranormal Investigations

The Space Time Continuum is a unique phenomena that may exhibit oddities that can only be described as "paranormal". Einstein laid out the ground rules for the space/time continuum in which he theorized that space and time are not separate phenomena, but are actually interconnected and interwoven as a single continuum. This space / time continuum has tentacles that touch upon many dimensions. Einstein explains that the space / time continuum has four dimensions. The three dimensions of length, width and height. The fourth dimension is time. The space / time continuum at times has hic ups and below are four unexplained hic ups of the space / time continuum.

AMELIA EARHART

The disappearance of Amelia Earhart on July 2, 1937, is definitely a mystery. While Amelia was planning to circumnavigate the globe, she was getting low on gas and searching for the landing strip on Howland Island. Amelia is confident that she is flying over the island, but doesn't see a landing strip or any buildings on the island. Did Amelia find herself in a space / time continuum glitch and somehow managed to fly back into time, when Howland Island was not occupied and that is the reason, she wasn't seeing any buildings or a landing strip? When she mentioned that she didn't see a landing strip, all communications were mute, and Amelia and her flight navigator Frederick Noonan vanished forever. No wreckage of her plane was ever recovered.

IBIZA GLITCH

When my half-brother Joseph "Joe" Anthony Soyo went on vacation to Ibiza, he was having a great time partying. But on one particular night he was leaving a nightclub and the door he was going out of, swung back and hit him hard on the head. Joe says for a minute, his vision was blurred, and he could see a man being whipped on the street from what looked like a man wearing a metal breast plate, metal helmet, red type of skirt, knee high boots and his right hand holding a whip, left hand holding a shield. When Joe reached stateside from his vacation in Ibiza, he did some researching and believes what he saw was a Phoenician soldier whipping a peasant. This sighting lasted for one minute with his blurred vision and after one minute, his eyesight was back to normal and everything on the street looked normal once again. I believe my brother Joe may have experienced a small glitch with the space / time continuum.

MAN FROM TAURED

Possibly another glitch in the space / time continuum occurred when a flight from Europe landed in Japan's Haneda Airport in 1954, and a man proclaiming he was from the country of Taured stepped off the plane. The man from Taured produced a passport that showed he was from this country. A country that no employee at Haneda Airport has ever heard of. When shown a map of Europe, the man from Taured points out that Taured is where Andorra is located. Security placed the man from Taured in a secured hotel room, so they could question him more the next day, but when they went into his room in the morning, he somehow vanished.

GIL PEREZ

Gil was a soldier from Manila, Philippines. His job was to guard the palace. Gil was dizzy and fatigued and decided to doze off for a little bit. When he awoke, he found himself at the Plaza Mayor in Mexico! Somehow, he teleported from Manila to Mexico! Mexican authorities didn't know what to think of Gil's strange story and locked him up, so they can question him some more. Another odd thing about Gil, is that he was wearing Filipino soldier uniform. Fortunately for Gil, a ship from the Philippines docked into Mexico and sailors on this ship recognized Gil. The sailors also confirmed Gil's story that Imperial Official Gomez Perez Dasmarinas was assassinated by Chinese pirates. With everything pointing towards Gil as being factual, they allowed Gil to get on board the ship with his fellow sailors and go back to the Philippines. It would appear that Gil fell into the glitch of the space / time continuum.

INITIAL MESSAGE TO MY INVESTIGATORS:

ATTENTION INVESTIGATORS!! We have a NEW location to investigate! Contact Person: Catherine Marie Defazio. Date to be there: 5/20/2023. Time to be there: 3pm. Location: 19 Millview Court, Sacramento, CA This home is right next to Bannon Creek which is very haunted. We are going to investigate the house and the creek and the creek is only like a 5-minute walk. People have died along the creek and the creek has a reputation of being haunted.

HPI Roll Call:

Paul Dale Roberts - HPI Co-Owner; Deanna Jaxine Stinson - Psychic Medium and HPI Co-Owner; Xandean Smith - Documentarian; (Guest Investigators: Paranormal Realstate: Amber Semona & Brandon Cleveland); Yvonne Baker; Occupant: Catherine Marie DeFazio - Investigator.

INVESTIGATION:

The investigation centered on the creek next to Catherine's house. The creek is called Bannon Creek. The creek has a reputation of being haunted. Catherine says there are 3 main spirits. 1. Hunchback Tool Ghost. This ghost is a man that has a hunchback and carries tools. 2. The Navajo Woman. This woman ghost looks to be of Navajo origin and hangs out at the creek. 3. The Farmer Guy Ghost. This ghost is a man and dresses like an old-time farmer. At the creek, there are some homeless encampments. We interviewed some of the homeless people and it appears that all of the homeless people have witnessed something paranormal at the creek. On the night before the investigation, Deanna and I, drove by the house. Deanna detected a ghost of a man with a hunchback and Deanna heard clicking sounds. Catherine says that from the wooded area, there are strange clicking sounds that are heard. Catherine verified what Deanna heard (the clicking sounds). We talked with one homeless man and he says at the bridge that goes over the creek, there is a yellow ball of light that floats around the bridge and around the creek. This homeless man also says that a demon dwells in the woods. We went to the location of the Navajo Woman and captured an EVP of a woman saying "hello". Brandon also captured an EVP that sounded like a woman saying "Hi". In another area, we captured an EVP that sounded like a mountain lion growling and back in the past, this was an area for pumas. So, it's possible we captured the growl of a ghostly puma. At one location, Amber's heart started pounding hard and she had to step away. Amber who is a sensitive, says that she felt someone had died in that location. A homeless man says that in that location there is a demonic force, and he has actually seen the demon. The demon has bright red hair and stands 5' 6" and is very mad all the time.

I also interviewed Catherine's friend who does not want to be identified and he said that behind Cal-Expo in the open fields there is a Mexican woman ghost that always seems angry. You are able to feel her bad energy. The gentleman that we were interviewing said that his wife Dana encountered this Mexican woman ghost and was overwhelmed by the bad energy, and she started crying. Then in this open field you can feel the bad energy from the "Torture Trees". A set of trees that for some reason has the nickname "Torture Trees". In this open field you can hear kids laughing and there are no kids around. You will see a group of people (ghosts) staring at you and then they will vanish. You will hear arguing and screaming and there is no one around. You will hear disembodied voices all over this field.

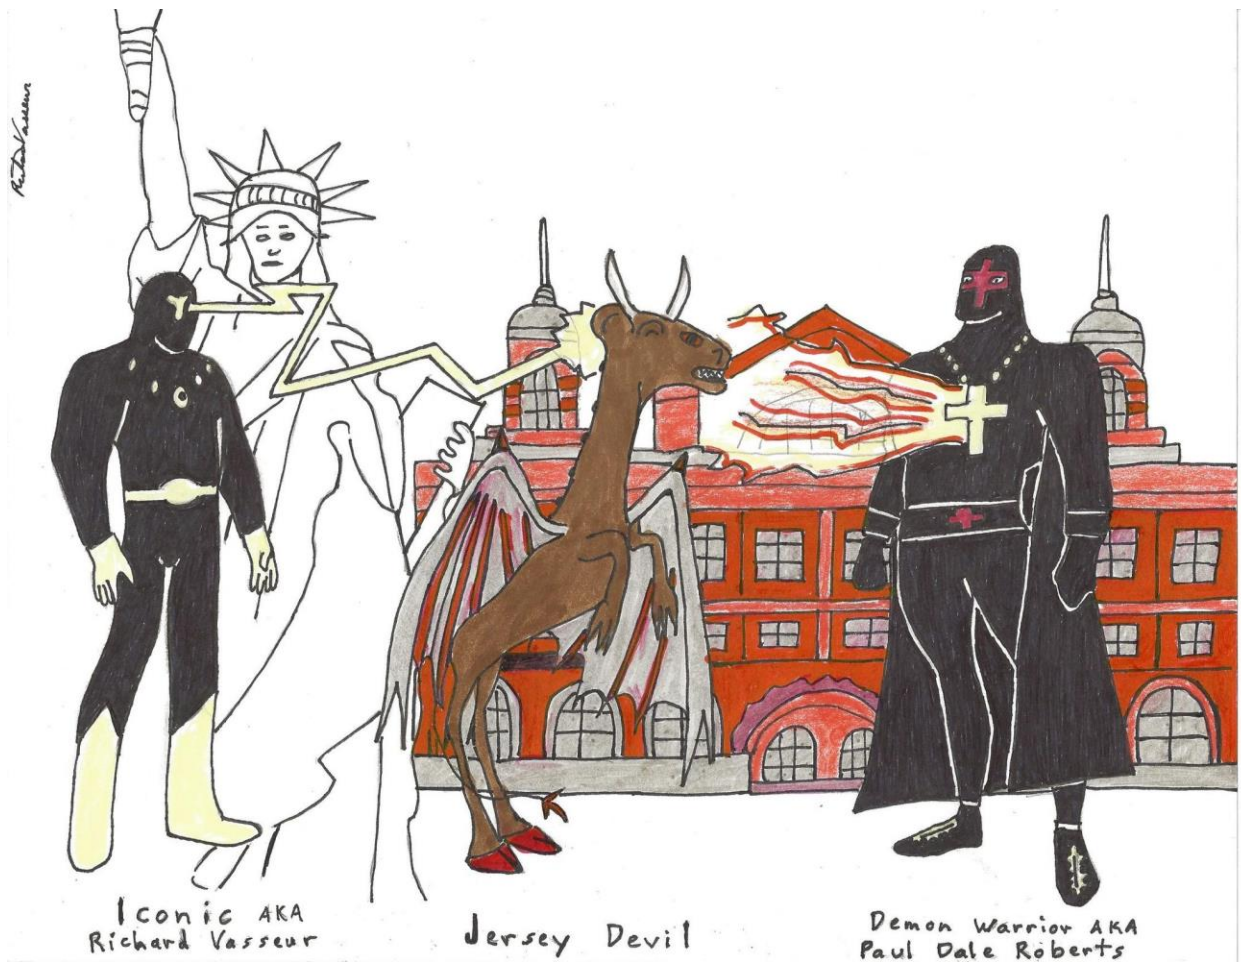

I want to personally thank Catherine for supplying us with crackers, cheese, salami, blueberries, strawberries, a variety of chips and all types of sodas. This was a very interesting investigation.

Haunted Cyprus' Berengaria Hotel

One of the most haunted hotels in the world is the Berengaria Hotel on the island of Cyprus. The doors to this magnificent hotel opened in 1931. The builder of the hotel is Mr. Kokkalos, who was a resident of Prodomos village. He used his savings and money gathered from his friends to invest in the construction of this hotel. The hotel was a fantasy come true. There were many notables that stayed at this hotel. One notable was Pharouk, who was the King of Egypt at the time. The president of Israel also stayed at this hotel. The hotel became known as a royal hotel, because of its distinguished guests. When Mr. Kokkalos passed away, he left the hotel for his 3 sons. The sons after inheriting the hotel, bickered and fought. There was fighting amongst the brothers due to greed, pride and jealousy. The hotel was in a disarray due to the new owners, the three brothers. The hotel eventually fell into shambles and the three brothers all died mysteriously under suspicious circumstances. It was rumored that they were murdered. Another strange death was the manager of the hotel, who committed suicide. For 53 years the hotel was open, but in 1984, the hotel closed its doors for good.

Rumors galore started on the island of Cyprus that this hotel was haunted. Karen Jean Caruso (Walker) who stayed in the hotel in 1980 was walking down one of the hallways and found herself walking into a portal. She knew it was a portal, because one area of the hallway felt thick. Karen felt like she walked through an invisible wall. When she came out of the wall, she saw a gathering of people in the lobby that seemed like they were dressed in clothing from the 1930s. She saw men dressed eloquently with middle eastern attire. As Karen looked at this strange crowd, she again felt the thickness in the air and when the thickness was gone, the people she saw in the lobby vanished. Karen to this day, doesn't know if what she saw were ghosts from the past or if somehow, she stepped back into time. Some people claimed to have seen shadows through the shattered windows and heard screams and cries. Additionally, another story holds that two female ghosts roam the hotel. One of them was found dead in the swimming pool, and it's said she still hangs around in an effort to avenge her death. The other is that of a young woman with distinguishably dark hair who is seen at the hotel dressed in white linen, and can allegedly be seen leaning against one of the windows at sunset.

There are reports that on the hotel grounds, a large black dog is seen roaming the grounds at dusk. Demonic red eyes are seen at times peering out from the windows of the hotel. A former guest at the hotel Giorgos Mattas says that when he stayed at the hotel, he was visited in his room by a hooded dark figure that was carrying a long blade. The demonic entity approached him and stabbed Giorgos in the chest. Giorgos felt a sharp stabbing pain in his chest and screamed. The entity then vanished. Giorgos was eventually assisted by hotel staff and when he went for a medical check-up, he learned he had a small stroke. Giorgos believes that the demonic entity that he saw in his room caused the stroke. Giorgos believes that the hotel is filled with dark energy.

Haunted Cornish Mansion

Paul Dale Roberts, HPI's Esoteric Detective

Halo Paranormal Investigations

One of my Facebook friends named: Terry James Millard (Lost Boy) reminded me of Halo Paranormal Investigations (HPI) in the town of Clarksburg. Here is HPI's story.

There is an old mansion along the Sacramento River in the town of Clarksburg. The mansion is known as The Cornish House. The original owner of the house was George Franklin Cornish of the Union Army. George was with the 2nd Wisconsin Calvary Company C. George was one of the many union soldiers that were captured by the Confederates and spent some horrible torturous years as a POW. George when released as a POW decided to move to California. George died on January 19, 1911, of stomach cancer.

After the death of George, the house went to the Wyre Family. When the Wyre Family moved out, they sold the home to prominent local attorney named Archibald Yell. Yell eventually sold it to Charles and Joseph Shiebigg and from there it had a few more owners, before becoming a historical landmark.

When HPI (Halo Paranormal Investigations) conducted an investigation of this mansion, we captured an EVP of a man saying something that sounded like "tell a thumper". Another investigator felt like they were pushed. We captured a cloudy mist in front of the house. Our EMF meters were going off in and around the mansion. As things became interesting, a caretaker asked us to leave, before we could do a thorough investigation. From the little evidence we captured, I truly believe that this house is very haunted.

Some History About Clarksburg

Clarksburg has been settled since the 1850s, when nearby Merritt Island was cleared for agricultural uses. The Clarksburg post office opened in 1876. Clarksburg was originally spelled Clarksburgh and in 1893, the townsfolk changed it to Clarksburg. The founder of Clarksburg was Robert C. Clark in 1849. The haunted Old Sugar Mill was open in Clarksburg in the 1930s. HPI conducted an investigation at the Old Sugar Mill and we obtained 7 EVPs at this mill. At this mill, there were severe accidents by the workers and the residual energy from these accidents haunt the mill. Along the Sacramento River next to Clarksburg, 3 fisherman are seen by a campfire and when you approach this campfire the campfire along with the three fisherman vanish. There has been times when night time fisherman along the river banks have seen a fisherman approach their campfire, only to disappear before reaching the campfire. The fisherman that approaches campfires is usually drenched in water. Another apparition that is seen by the Sacramento River near Clarksburg is a half naked woman walking alongside the road. This ghostly girl looks lost and as you approach the girl in your vehicle she will dematerialize into nothingness. Some people believe either she was a drowning victim or she was murdered along the Sacramento River. As for the three fisherman, this may be a residual haunting.

Below is the link in which the house that Al Capone would inspect the bootleg alcohol and also bring his women to receive an abortion, can be seen at this link:

For the life of me, I never got a clear positive proof that this house was once a temporary home for the notorious gangster known as Al "Scarface" Capone. When I was in the Army, I was headed to Fort Knox, Kentucky and one of the stops that I made was at an old rundown home in Clinton, Indiana. The locals really believe that Al Capone would stay in this home on a temporary basis. When Al Capone felt the police were heavy on his tail, he would retreat to this house in Clinton. What I do know as a fact is that Al Capone would stop at Clinton, Indiana for two things. He would head out to Clinton, Indiana with his gangster entourage to pick up illegal bootleg alcohol. Of course, he would let one of his henchmen take possession of the bootleg alcohol and Al Capone would inspect the pick-up. Al Capone would also bring the women that he was intimate with to Clinton, Indiana to get an abortion of his unborn children.

I stopped at a local store and talked with the store clerk and some of the customers. The customers, along with the store clerk believe that the house I was going to visit was a safehouse used by Al Capone and his henchman and that illegal bootleg alcohol was stored at this location. Also, the customers said that a medical doctor that had a suspended medical license performed illegal abortions at this house. What really caught my interest is that they said this house is very haunted. Many locals say that they see a Lady in Black walking outside of the house weeping and at times crying loudly. The locals believe that this ghost is of a woman that was forced to have an abortion and the loss of her child is causing her to cry. I wasn't a ghosthunter yet, but I knew I wanted to see this house. When I drove up to this house, it felt creepy and as I got out of my car I felt a sense of sadness. I couldn't get inside the house, because it seemed like there was someone living in there and I didn't want to get in trouble for trespassing.

I learned later from PFC Larry Barnwheel at Fort Knox, Kentucky that Larry had been to this house and saw shadow people moving about the house. When Larry saw the shadow people, it scared him enough that he ran to his car and zipped off down the street. A now defunct ghost hunting group called the Indiana Ghost Stompers investigated the house and they claim that they captured an EVP of a woman crying. They also had a female investigator get nauseated and started vomiting outside of the house. When this happened, they decided it was time to leave. There is no telling the horrors that may have happened in this house, especially if it was a house that Al Capone would sometimes stay at. Were there murders committed at this house? Did some of the women having abortions die from the surgery and bled to death? Some of the locals believe that these occurrences may have happened at this house.

Haunted Valley of Fire State Park, Nevada

Paul Dale Roberts, HPI's Esoteric Detective

Ancient Aliens talked about Lake Mead, Ghost Adventures investigated Lake Mead and now it seems that many paranormal groups are heading over to Lake Mead to find paranormal activity. While investigating Lake Mead, paranormal enthusiasts also learn about the paranormal activity happening at Valley of Fire State Park in Nevada. Darnel Ackhurst, a paranormal enthusiast, makes claim that he saw a giant sloth walking in and around the red rocks at Valley of Fire State Park. Giant Sloths roamed Nevada about eight million years ago. Darnel says that when he saw the giant sloth, it dematerialized almost instantly and when he snapped a photo, there was no image of a sloth on his photo. Locals also claim that they sometimes see strange lights in the sky at Valley of Fire State Park.

When my uncle George Roberts went on vacation to Las Vegas, he made a stop at Valley of Fire State Park, Lake Mead, Grand Canyon National Park and the Hoover Dam. George says that he actually did have a paranormal experience at Valley of Fire State Park. While he was hiking around the mighty red rocks, he claims he saw an attractive woman hiking in front of him. The woman smiled and in his mind, she was telling him to follow her. George says he heard a woman's voice in his head say "follow me". George says something wasn't right about this woman and turned around and headed back to his vehicle. George said he felt something sinister about the woman. When he started walking back to his car, he turned around and couldn't see the woman. There have been cases of missing people at Valley of Fire State Park. In fact the indigenous people called the Anasazi that once inhabited the area vanished! Where did these people go? When the Anasazi vanished, other tribes like the Paiute and Moapa moved in.

It would seem that there is paranormal activity all around this area, especially when you hear the statistics that over 300 people have died at Lake Mead and recently they found a man in a metal barrel at Lake Mead. The man in the barrel murder has all of the earmarks of a mafia hit. The dead are starting to pop up all around Lake Mead since the water levels went down. The area has a lot of history. The original inhabitants were called the Basketmaker People and they lived in the area in 300 AD. Archaeologists believe the area was first inhabited in 8000 BC. The ancient Puebloans aka the Anasazi migrated to the Lake Mead area and vanished around 1150 AD. Pueblo Grande de Nevada aka the Lost City is a mystery to many. How did all of these inhabitants disappear? Where did they go? Archaeologists are completely stumped on why complex structures with 20 to 100 rooms were abandoned. All throughout the area, archaeologists come across skeletal remains that are next to weapons and tools of the indigenous people that once lived in this area.

Carter Waugh of Boulder Spook Finders says that when his team conducted an investigation at Lake Mead they captured EVPs of people screaming. Carter says that Lake Mead National Recreation Area is very haunted. Many of his team members saw shadow people and one of his female team members had her leg grabbed, which caused her to trip and fall. Carter says that Lake Mead is filled with dark energy and it's not a place for the faint of heart. Carter says when his team was ready to quit their investigation, they heard distant drum beats echoing into the night. Carter believes the drum beats were from Native Americans spirits.

Lincoln Forstater, who is a tourist, claims he saw a triangle type of UAP (Unidentified Aerial Phenomena) flying slowly over the Valley of Fire State Park. Is it possible that Valley of Fire State Park is on a leyline? Is that the reason UFO/UAPs are attracted to this area? My uncle George says if there is any area that is cursed, this is the place.

True Tales from All 50 States

Author: Michael A. Kozlowski

Overviewed by Paul Dale Roberts, HPI's Esoteric Detective, Halo Paranormal Investigations

Comments: Imagine this, you are a ghost hunter and you saved up your savings, so you can travel to all 50 states. Your goal is to conduct a paranormal investigation in every state, and you need a good guidebook, that has a listing of all 50 states. With this guidebook it also directs you to various haunted sites in each state to investigate high strangeness. That guidebook would be "American Ghost Stories by Michael A. Kozlowski"! Let me tell you some of the haunts listed in this fabulous book! In the introduction, the author explains that funeral rites go as far back as 60,000 BC and the acceptance of an afterlife most likely goes back that far or even further. The first state that is explored in this book is Arizona as the author talks about the hauntings of The Bird Cage Theater in Tombstone.

The author describes on how some people at The Bird Cage Theater feel like they are being watched, they feel cold spots and at times they get poked by a ghostly finger. Moving along, you have Bragg Road in Hardin County, Texas where mysterious balls of light haunt the road and you might have a ball of light whiz right past you. If you stop off at Everett, Washington, you will find stories about a private residence called the Rucker House, in which a previous owner named Jane is sometimes seen wandering the hallways. It is believed that Jane committed suicide by jumping out of a bedroom window or she may have even been murdered. Since this is a private residence, it's probably best to investigate outside of the home. As you move along with this book, there are ghost tales from Bannack, Montana; the Idaho State Tuberculosis Hospital in Gooding, Idaho. Then your next stop is Yellowstone National Park in Wyoming, if you dare! Make sure to visit the Old Faithful Inn! I really enjoyed the story about the headless bride that roams around the Old Faithful Inn. This lady ghost is wearing a bridal dress and is headless! She is seen carrying her own head underneath her arm! Talk about a spooky place! My kind of place to investigate!

AMERICAN GHOST STORIES

True Tales from All 50 States

Michael A. Kozlowski

I will name a few more places that this book talks about. The author talks about the ghostly activities at The Old Washoe Club in Virginia City, Nevada; Riverdale Road in Thorton, Colorado; Sica Hollow in Lake City, South Dakota; Sallie - The Heartland Ghost of Atchison, Kansas; Blennerhassett Island at Parkersburg, West Virginia; Highway 365 in Woodson, Arkansas; Bobby Mackey's Music World - Wilder, Kentucky; LaLaurie Mansion - New Orleans, Louisiana; Shades of Death Road - Warren County in New Jersey; Demon Truck of Seven Hills Road - Ellicott City, Maryland; The Night Marchers in Hawaii. I have to mention, my half-brother Andy Somprise Soyo lived in Hawaii for 5 years and actually encountered The Night Marchers, this is a very real phenomena. As a paranormal investigator, I can't tell you how many times I have heard from new ghost hunters that they have no idea on where to investigate. I highly suggest buying this book and placing it into your collection. If you are planning to do some traveling and visiting other states, this is the book that will tell you about haunted places in ALL 50 states! For paranormal enthusiasts and new ghosthunters, this book "American Ghost Stories" needs to be placed in your private library! A great resource!

Special Note: As a paranormal investigator, I have investigated the LaLaurie Mansion in New Orleans and the Old Washoe Club in Virginia City. I must say the author definitely knows his haunted locations. I found all kinds of activity at LaLaurie Mansion and the Old Washoe Club!
